

SPECIAL GUESTS

FRED HARDINGE

Director of Internet Ministries, It Is Written
Co-founder of Bibleinfo.com

For over 25 years Dr. Hardinge has been communicating the message "You can be healthy and more productive if you choose!" to a wide variety of audiences. His background includes pastoring, academic teaching, community health education, corporate training and consultation, administration and private health counseling. He served as a consultant to the Federal Aviation Administration Human Factors Program for the past three years. He is known nationally and internationally as a creative and motivational speaker and educator.

ANTHONY KENT

Associate Secretary, Continuing Education, Professional Growth, PREACH

Anthony Kent has recently come to the General Conference Ministerial Association from the South Pacific Division where he served as Division Ministerial Secretary and the Director of the Institute of Evangelism. Anthony's ministry experience includes pastoring local churches, church planting, public evangelism as a union and division evangelist, and leading study tours and other professional growth events for pastors. He has recently developed a Ministerial Internship Development and Training syllabus. Anthony and his wife Debora have two daughters Chelsea and Georgia.

MAX TORKELSON

NPUC President

Torkelson was appointed as the NPUC President in late fall of 2008, a position left vacant by the death of former president, Jere Patzer. Prior to assuming his new duties in early 2009 at NPUC, Max served as the Upper Columbia Conference president for the past 12 years. Torkelson and his wife, Linnea, have two grown, married daughters, Analisa and Kirsten, who make their homes in Portland, OR.

LEE VENDEN

Lee Venden taught Academy Bible for 8 years and has since pastored for 22 years. He and his wife Marji currently work as a Revivalist Team for Upper Columbia Conference. Lee's sermons are broadcast on Hope TV, and over the internet. The Venden's have been married for 31 years. Their son, Kris, is a systems analyst. Their daughter Lindsey is a registered nurse. Lee has authored three books and co-authored More About Jesus, a Bible-study series in print and on the web at moreaboutjesus.org.

JEFF WILSON

Director, General Conference Planned Giving & Trust Services
Department

Jeff Wilson has worked for the General Conference since 1999. Joining the organization as an Associate Director, he currently serves as the Director of the Planned Giving and Trust Services Department. Prior to joining the General Conference, Jeff has worked for several conferences—Ohio, Arizona & Illinois—as well as Andrews University and Faith for Today. Jeff and his wife Sharon Kay have been married for 40 years.
